

To select the best partner possible, make sure you ask your new trailer lessor these questions:

Question to ask your potential trailer lessor	Premier's Answer	Other Vendor Answers
What trailer selection do you offer and what does your availability look like?	Premier offers its customers a diverse and extensive fleet of over 60,000 dry vans, reefers, flatbeds, chassis and specialized semi-trailers of various ages to support different applications.
Do you offer nationwide coverage/branch locations?	With more than 40 branches across the nation, Premier is where you need us most. We also offer flexibility around return locations if needed.
How flexible is your drop policy?	Premier prides itself on our flexibility and customer focus. We do not charge drop fees for standard over-the-road vans.
What are your trailer turn-in requirements? Does your company offer non-stringent repair standards?	As a true business partner, Premier's no-nonsense return requirements make sure turn-in fees are reasonable. In case of needed repairs, we are known for keeping our standards in line with large carrier standards. You can find our Turn-In Condition and Repair Standards at https://premiertrailerleasing.com/docs/default-source/default-document-library/Turn-in-Condition-and-Repairs.pdf
How do you maintain your trailer fleet?	Premier rigorously maintains all trailers on a regular basis for optimal performance and to reduce the risk of downtime.
Do you offer in-house 24/7 roadside assistance? What is the cost?	24-hour roadside assistance from our in-house RoadCARE team is included for all customers - no subscription fees.
